MLA Style: Books and E-Books

NOTE: Your instructor might request that you cite differently from the examples shown here. If so, follow his or her guidelines.

Basic Format
Author Last Name, First Name. Title of Book. Place of publication: Publisher, Copyright year. Print.

Ex:

Two to three authors

Three authors or more

Book with an editor (A work prepared for publication by someone other than the author)

Book published in a second or subsequent edition

Book by a corporate author

Parenthetical/In-Text Citation
(American 53)

E-Book (Use format for a print book, but after publication date add name of database/collection, Web format, and date of access)
Google Book published after 1900

Google Book published before 1900

(Article in an encyclopedia or reference book)

(If the above article was from a database, you would follow 1999 with title of the database, Web, and date of access.)

Parenthetical/In-Text Citation
(Magnuson-Martinson 55) Author and page number used.

(Multivolume reference book (If you are using two or more volumes, cite the total set.)

Parenthetical/In-Text Citation
(Bankston 3: 56) (Author volume number: page number(s))
(Bankston, vol. 4) (Use this if you are citing the entire volume. Notice the comma after the author.)

Work in an anthology

For more help with citing books, refer to MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers or contact the Reference Desk: 443-412-2131; http://www.harford.edu/library/ask_a_librarian.